Addiction Recovery

Program referrals are driven by needs, but are also impacted by the offender's length of stay.

During 2011 the IDOC released 18,374 offenders. Of those, 5,890 (32.1%) had a length of stay of 180 days or less. 10,124 (55.1%) had a length of stay of 365 days or less. These numbers have declined drastically since 2009 and 2010.

Short term lengths of stay significantly impact the ability to participate in programming.

Not possible to meet all needs of all offenders.

T.C.

Pro-Social

- Must be substance abuser with a significant impairment in functioning.
- Must be in credit class one and have no significant history of violence within the past year.
- Adult offenders must be clear of any Security Threat Group (STG) offenses for six months prior to admission.
- Referrals made by Case Managers based upon offender need.
- Can receive up to 6 months earned credit time.

Purposeful Incarceration

To create and foster a working relationship between the IDOC's Therapeutic Communities and the Indiana Judicial System.

Normal EPRD criteria can be waived for PI cases.

Judges can sentence chemically addicted offenders and document that they will "Consider a sentence modification" should the offender successfully complete a therapeutic community.

The offender can receive treatment and be returned to the community through existing community programs such as:

Monitoring

GPS

- The Indiana Sex Offender Monitoring and Management Program (INSOMM) provides an integrated continuum of sex offender specific services.
- All facility-based treatment services are provided at New Castle Correctional Facility for males and Rockville Correctional Facility for females. (Mandatory)
- Treatment/Management groups are provided within the facility and length of services are based upon risk level.
- Containment teams are utilized in Parole to manage and monitor the sex offender's reintegration into the community. The Containment Team consists of the Parole Agent, Treatment Providers, and Polygraphers.
- The primary goal of the program is to enhance public safety by reducing recidivism in convicted sex offenders.

Release Planning

- Standard Pre-Release Orientation Programming (SPOP/MPOP) at 180 days prior to Release

Work Release

All offenders assigned to the Work Release Centers are classified as minimum security (Level One). The overall program provides a systematic reintegration into the community based upon the offender's level of responsibility.

Key elements of the program are as follows:

- Work Release classified offenders who are within 1 year of release are allowed to pursue employment or education in the community.
- The first two weeks after arrival are devoted to admission and orientation.
- During the Admission and Orientation phase the offender's IDOC record and case plan are reviewed and updated as necessary.
